During the time he has owned the Danielson Inn property he has been very successful in his management.

POKEVILLE SEMINARY

Graduates Class of 1886, for the Division of Many Spectators.

Members of the Ladies' Aid society and choir of the Methodist church combined their forces Tuesday evening to present in the town hall and with their usual success in such affairs, an out of the ordinary entertainment designated as the Graduating Exercises of the Young Ladies' Seminary of Peckville, class of 1886.

The suggestion in the title was closely followed in the presentation of the entertainment, the participants appearing in costumes of the pre-Civil war period.

There was a procession for an opening number, a song, Hurrah for Old New England, by the school, and address by the principal, a salutatory, essays, recitations, class poem, class ode, valedictory and all the other features that go to make up such a graduation program as the people of this generation are familiar with in towns that have their high schools and academies. Even prizes were awarded and diplomas conferred. As the theatrical folks say, the players put it over in great shape and the audience was generous in its expressed approval.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Sidney Perry were in charge of the arrangements for the production, which was well patronized.

PUTNAM

Congregational C. E. Meeting Followed By Spelling Bee—Rev. William H. Lee to Speak at Woodstock Fairgrounds—Gathering of 125 at First Annual Dinner of Chamber of Commerce—High School Basketball Schedule.

Rev. Charles F. Bedard has issued yearly letters of invitation to the clergy to attend the golden anniversary of St. Mary's parish Friday.

Henry A. Betts of Worcester was a visitor with friends here Tuesday.

Miss Suidan of the High School faculty was coach of the teams Tuesday afternoon. Members of the senior and sophomore girls' basketball teams played a practice game—the first of the season—at the High School gymnasium.

C. E. Meeting.

At the Congregational church members of the Y. S. C. E. society held their annual business meeting and social. Reports were received from committees. There was a grand march and a special feature was an old-fashioned spelling bee.

New Loans Set.

New loans for installation at the mill of the Manhasset company are being received here.

The Common Law, a seven-reel motion picture feature, with Clara Kimball Young as the star, attracted an unusually large audience at the Bradley theatre at Tuesday's show.

Special Masses Friday.

There are to be three masses at St. Mary's church Friday morning, the feast of the Immaculate Conception, which is also the date of the golden anniversary of the parish. The masses are to be at 5 and 7 o'clock, the pontifical high mass at nine o'clock.

Southerners Like Mild Weather.

You can go and bet any of your friends that there's no more satisfactory Christmas present, so far, for the Virginia and Georgia boys doing railroad construction work out of this city than the spring-like weather that has been turned in during the first five days of December.

Will Speak at Fairgrounds.

Hon. Wilson H. Lee of New Haven is to give an address on New England Agriculture Wednesday of next week at the fairgrounds in Woodstock. Under his subject Mr. Lee will discuss what part county fairs have had in its development.

Mr. Lee is president of the organization aimed to boom New England agriculture. Paul P. Ives is also to speak at the meeting, in connection with which there is to be an annual exhibition of poultry.

Hospital Needs Donations.

While the Thanksgiving contributions to the Day Kimball hospital were generous, there is room for more giving for the needs of the institution. This is especially true as regards vegetables, particularly potatoes. All kinds of food stuffs can be used to advantage.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

HOLDS FIRST ANNUAL DINNER.

Gathering of 125 Means Addresses By Rev. William A. Keefe and John Rodemeyer.

Covers were laid for 125 persons on Tuesday evening at the first annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce, in Elks' hall in the Burbee building. The affair was very much of a success.

The affair brought together the business and pleasure men of the town, an opportunity to enjoy a fine dinner as well as the opportunity of listening to good speakers.

Head George L. Padgett presided at the dinner. The principal addresses were delivered by Rev. William A. Keefe, pastor of St. John's church, Plainfield, and Rodemeyer, of Canaan, one of the best known newspaper men in Connecticut.

Special entertainment features were provided during the dinner period. These features included cabaret sketches and rapid-fire work cartoons of local men and figures in national life, drawn by Clifford Knight of Hartford.

Music was furnished by members of the Morse family, violin, cello and piano. The flowers and palms used in the decorations were loaned by C. S. Andem, president of the Chamber of Commerce.
